

Celeborn «King» vom schwarzen Nordlicht

Celeborn "King" vom schwarzen Nordlicht is a 3,5 year old male Riesenschnauzer. To make this dog happy I came to these conclusions: quality cuddles, some full focus attention and interaction, 20-50 min full power exercise per day, then some 1-2 hour(s) of normal walking/exploring, and 5-15 min per day of keeping up with training, take some hour(s) once a week to train something or go somewhere new, feed 1,5-2 times the recommended amount and some daily peace and quiet.

The most important things to know about this dog to keep you happy are these: he loves to dig and swim so 'clean' is relative, letting things slide 'just this once' is a no-go (always be consistent), you have to be honest and fair about your own shortcomings and mood, there probably will not be any doggy playdates, he gives toys readily but food is a no-go, he is no pushover and will not stand for disrespect, he loves the whole family but is loyal to one, he will protect 'his' person/household/property.

King will behave perfectly when another dog goes crazy if you have the situation under control. If he deems a situation undesirable, he will put an end to it. I love this dog with all my heart, am very proud of his upbringing and we are a very good team but he is an acquired taste.

I hope this helps. If you have any questions at all, please do not hesitate to contact me.
